Before attending Spring Colonial Inauguration, make sure to:

- Register for CI and Housing
  You will register for CI and housing using the same online portal. GW’s 6-semester housing policy requires all first-, second-, and third-year students to live on campus; so please be prepared to register for both housing and CI at the same time. The application for housing opens on November 7th, and the application for CI opens on November 14th. Both can be accessed by visiting go.gwu.edu/eservices.

- Contact an Academic Advisor
  Schedule an appointment with an academic advisor as soon as possible; do not wait for CI! In-person and phone advising appointments may be scheduled by calling the academic advising offices listed under “New Student Orientation - Advising and GW 101” at http://families.gwu.edu.

- Complete Online Placement Exams (if necessary)
  If you wish to take a placement exam in a language, contact the Language Center at 202-994-6333 or language@gwu.edu. The ALEKS (Assessment and Learning in Knowledge Spaces) math placement is required for any students who intend to register for ECON 1011, MATH 1051, 1220, 1231, or 1252. To take the ALEKS placement exam visit: http://go.gwu.edu/mathplacement. To see minimum score requirements, please visit: https://families.gwu.edu/academic-advising-gw-101. Consult your academic advisor if you have additional questions. Visit the Registrar’s website for questions regarding pre-matriculation and transfer credits.

- Register for Classes
  Before registering for classes, visit Advising and GW 101 under New Student Orientation on http://families.gwu.edu for class registration information. Once you have worked with your advisor, taken any necessary placement exams, and your deposit is processed, you should be prepared to register. You may register by visiting http://my.gwu.edu, and selecting “GW Web (Records & Registration).” You will need your GWid and PIN to complete class registration. You are able to register for classes as soon as your deposit is processed and prior to Spring CI.

- Make Travel Arrangements
  International students can move into university housing on Tuesday, January 9th after 10:00 a.m. Domestic students can move in on Thursday, January 11th after 10:00 a.m. CI Check-in will be on the 3rd floor of the Marvin Center (800 21st Street, NW) and will begin at 9:00 a.m. on Friday, January 12th.
